

Belgium

Introduction

Belgium is a country in Western Europe that borders the North Sea. Neighboring countries include France, Germany, Luxembourg, and the Netherlands. Flat coastal plains take up most of the northwest, but rugged mountains of the Ardennes Forest lie in the southeast. The government system is a federal parliamentary democracy under a constitutional monarchy. The chief of state is the king, and the head of government is the prime minister. Belgium has a mixed economic system which includes a private-enterprise system, combined with centralized economic planning, and government regulation. Belgium is a member of the European Union (EU).

Strengths

- Optimal trade-strategic location between the United Kingdom, Germany and France
- Strong export focus with large ports in Antwerp (second-largest in Europe) and Zeebrugge
- Diversified economy, with a focus on financial services, trade, agri-food, chemicals and pharmaceutical production
- Presence of European institutions, international organisations and global groups
- Well-trained workforce thanks to vocational education, multilingualism

Weaknesses

- Political and financial tensions between Flanders and Wallonia
- Complex institutional structure and multiple administrative levels
- Very dependent on the Western European economy: exports of goods and services represents 87% of GDP, of which almost 60% goes to the rest of the EU
- · Heavy public debt (fifth-highest debt rate of the EU)
